Create

We are called to create.

Love

We are called to love,
not just others, but ourselves swell. Look behind the fabric and answer this question:
what do you see?

Now pick up a card.
Read it.
Look again.

Reconcile

We are called to reconcile.

Paul tells us in his second letter to the church in Corinth that we should be ministers of reconciliation. Light a candle for the people who are missing from this room. Who isn't here? Who haven't we welcomed? Who do we need to be reconciled to?

Heal

We are called to heal.

Today we are offering prayers of anointing and healing.

You can kneel or stand.

Offer a request if you like.

Grateful

We are called to be grateful.

Write what you are grateful for on the chalkboard as a prayer of thanksgiving.

Serve

We are called to serve.

Help create footcare kits for those in need. Put a pair of socks and a variety of band aids in each gallon-sized zipper bag. Place completed bags in the basket.

Journey

We are called to journey with one another. Sometimes that means celebrating with those rejoicing. And sometimes that means we weep with those who weep. Today, we acknowledge the brokenness of the world and weep with those weeping. The salt water presents the bitterness of God's tears. Add salt for your own sorrow. Then touch the water as a reminder of what God can do in the waters of baptism.

Faithful

We are called to be faithful.

Take a moment to run your hand through the bowl of mustard seeds. Remember Jesus' words: "Truly I tell you, if you have faith as small as a mustard seed, you can say to this mountain, 'Move from here to there,' and it would move. Nothing would be impossible."
